Disclaimer

Midwest Reliability Organization (MRO) is committed to providing outreach, training, and non-binding guidance to industry stakeholders on important industry topics. Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) from MRO's organizational groups and the industry may develop materials, including presentations, provided as a part of the event. The views expressed in the event materials are those of the SMEs and do not necessarily express the opinions and views of MRO.

Conference Logistics

WebEx Login:

If any help is needed logging into WebEx please reach out to Estee Nauer at estee.nauer@mro.net or Dana Klem at dana.klem@mro.net.

Audio and Video Recording

Participants will be muted upon entry and will be able to unmute themselves. Please keep your mics muted at all times. Please note that Midwest Reliability Organization (MRO) may make a video and/or an audio recording of the speakers for the purposes of making this information available to board members, members, stakeholders and the general public who are unable to attend the meeting in person.

Questions:

If you have questions for a speaker, please utilize WebEx's chat feature. Please submit all questions to the "MRO Host". If we are unable to get all questions asked/answered during the conference, a response will be provided after the conference either directly to the requestor or through another form of outreach.
